

Dress Shirts

(Discussion after the Burswood fixture, 12 January 2010)

The ordering of dress shirts through Thailand at a cheap price was discussed over post-match drinks (non-alcoholic). It was generally agreed that the opportunity, though a very good one, is probably not warranted given their perceived limited use and the potential for costs to escalate if multiple screen print colours were required. Steve indicated that he was not equipped to do this type of cloth printing.

Several other options were canvassed, including:

- beer mugs or wine glasses
- shorts
- a club "brooch"
- club head covers.

The club head covers option received assent and Litts agreed to investigate. He found that there would be a minimum order of 100 and it would be expensive. Three suppliers all gave the same basic answer. It's back to the drawing board (and perhaps some alcohol next time might lubricate the creative juices).